The Clinical & Basic Science of

Immunology

Selected multimedia talks included in
The Biomedical & Life Sciences Collection

The Biomedical & Life Sciences Collection is a unique, convenient and cost-effective online resource, containing nearly 3,000 specially produced, multimedia lectures by world leading authorities that supports life-long continuing professional education in most leading global pharmaceutical companies. Topics covered range from basic research to therapeutic intervention, from the level of the single molecule to entire populations, and include both advanced and introductory-level talks. New lectures are added every month and existing content is reviewed and updated as appropriate.

Multimedia talks presented by experts from both academia and industry.

Used by biomedical scientists to quickly immerse themselves in new areas and to get up to speed on developments in their fields.

Used for individual, self-motivated learning as well as group programmes for any number of participants.

HSTalks teams provide additional support through complimentary curation and commissioning services.

A selection of talks on immunology are provided in the following pages. Further information can be obtained from the Senior Editor, Dr Eyal Kalie, at eyalk@hstalks.com.
